3pigs // This Week

Five-day art forecast: very diverse throughout the whole week, especially busy on the west, mildly naked on Wednesday and with high possibility of geeky on Saturday. Now that you know what to expect, go out, pick a means of transportation and let it take you to the events carefully chosen by the Bpigs staff.

WEDNESDAY 19.02

19.00 Dorothy Iannone. This Sweetness Outside of Time. Paintings, Objects, Books 1959-2014 @ Berlinische Galerie

WHY: The Berlinische Galerie is showing an extensive retrospective of Berlin based artist Dorothy Iannone, which will be the first to address all aspects of a unique artistic opus rich in splendour, humour and the erotic. Her oeuvre, which now spans more than fifty years, includes painting and visual narrative, autobiographical texts and films. Since the 1960s she has been seen as a pioneering spirit against censorship, for free love and autonomous female sexuality. The exhibition is accompanied by a side program with movie screenings, readings and a concert which will begin on Feb 24th. A catalogue entitled „Dorothy Iannone. This Sweetness Outside of Time. 1959-2014“ will be published by Berlinische Galerie.

Berlinische Galerie / Alte Jakobstrasse 124 - 128, 10969 Berlin, U8 Moritzplatz / show open through 02.06 / more info
