

The screenshot shows the TV5 Monde website interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the TV5 Monde logo, a language dropdown set to 'Français', and other menu items like 'TV', 'Info', 'Langue française', 'Afrique', and 'Plus'. Below this is a blue header with the word 'INFO' and a search bar. A secondary navigation bar contains links for 'Accueil', 'Vidéos', 'Afrique', 'Terriennes', 'Culture', 'Les journaux', and 'En continu', along with social media icons and a 'Suivez-nous' link.

The main content area is titled 'VIDÉOS'. It features a video player on the left. The video thumbnail shows a person in a dark dress with arms raised in a field, with the text 'ARE HERE TO PROTECT WATER IS LIFE' overlaid. A blue play button is centered over the thumbnail. Below the video player, a caption reads: 'BRUNO SERRALONGUE - PHOTOGRAPHE Avec "Les gardiens de l'eau" LE JOURNAL INTERNATIONAL PHOTOGRAPHE'.

To the right of the video player is an article titled '"Les gardiens de l'eau", la résistance d'autochtones d'Amérique en photos à Arles'. The article is categorized as 'Actualité aux États-Unis' and 'Photographie, photosportage'. The text describes the 'Les Gardiens de l'eau' as indigenous people in North Dakota, USA, who are fighting against the construction of oil pipelines on their land. It mentions that this is the title of a series of photos by Bruno Serralongue, which were exhibited in Arles. The article's duration is listed as '6 min 30' and the date as '24 AOÛ 2022'. There are four colored circles (blue, light blue, green, grey) at the bottom of the article.

Cliquer ici pour regarder